

Economics Scholars Program

Calling all Undergraduate Econ Students

The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland will be hosting the Economic Scholars Program on May 5, 2023. ESP is a free economic research conference where student scholars and faculty come together and share undergraduate student-initiated works, cultivate imaginative research, network with peers, and discover internship and employment opening with the Federal Reserve.

The Economic Scholars Program is open to all undergraduate students with several ways to get involved:

- Peer Review Board Member
- Session Chair
- Discussant
- Presenter–Paper
- Presenter–Poster

To learn more about the student roles, how to get involved, and important deadlines visit our program site.

Upcoming Deadlines

Applications for the peer review board are now open!

Register today!

Please reach out to clevelandeconomicoutreach@clev.frb.org with questions or sign-up for our e-blast to get up-to-date information and reminders for important upcoming dates.

